Hello,

The Next Generation vessel has just departed location AR-A07 after retrieving the receiver and downloading data. The crew used a grappling hook to retrieve the AR, however, after the receiver was brought on deck, the crew realized they were calling the wrong number. They redeployed the receiver and recalled (the correct) number and the receiver was contacted. The next location is AR-A10 (RM 6) - the crew does not anticipate using a grappling hook for this location.
